COMPASS AVIATION MINISTRIES

UNTIL ALL HAVE HEARD

THE MISSION

Aviation provides access to food, medicine, mail, supplies, and technical support for overseas ministries.

THE PROBLEM

Mission aviation organizations are in desperate need of additional pilot/mechanics.

TO MAKE MATTERS WORSE

the "Baby Boomer" generation of missionary aviators is reaching retirement age. This means that mission organizations are losing a large percentage of their current work force. Mission organizations struggle to find new missionary aviators because recent graduates face large school loans and need to gain additional flight time after graduation.

THE SOLUTION

Compass Aviation Ministries seeks to provide a passageway for aviators that is clear and straight, a way to move them quickly and directly from flight training to mission service.

Our objective is three-fold:

- 1) To provide future missionary pilot/mechanics with aviation experience in our facility where they can gain the flight hours and proficiency required by mission organizations.
- 2) To help missionary candidates reduce educational and training debts by providing them the flight hours and proficiency needed – at little to no cost.
- 3) To provide these candidates with sufficient time to raise any additional financial support needed to complete their missionary training.

OPPORTUNITY TO FURTHER GOD'S KINGDOM

We realize that not everyone is able to commit their lives to overseas missionary service. The exciting news is that God has gifted and called many pilots/mechanics to serve full-time overseas as a missionary aviators. But they need your help to get there. If you would like to get involved or find out more information about this exciting ministry, please visit us on the web or fill out and tear off this section of the brochure.

- I would like more information (DVD, etc.)
- I would like a presentation at my church
- I would like to support the ministry financially
- I would like to support the ministry prayerfully
